SCHOOL TRUSTEES
ENJOY BIG DINNER
PREPARED BY MEMBERS OF COLORED HIGH SCHOOL.

ROAST TURKEY, CRANBERRIES AND PUDDING ON MENU.
FINE THANKSGIVING SPREAD.

The third annual Thanksgiving dinner to the members of the Louisville School Board was given yesterday at noon by the students of the domestic science department of the Central Colored High School, Ninth and Magazine streets. Everything that was served was prepared by members of the senior class, assisted by several juniors and sophomores. Previous to the dinner, Prof. D. L. Lawson invited the visiting members of the board to the chapel, where Prof. E. H. Mark, superintendent of schools, acted as master of ceremonies, and about thirty minutes were devoted to speaking. A short address, in which he told the students of their duty and what the school expected of them, Dr. O. B. Hand spoke of the improvements recently made at the High School, and said that he hoped soon to see larger and better quarters for the school. Dr. J. Hunter Peake, Samuel D. Jones, John M. Rambo, Joseph Piazza and Prof. Mark delivered encouraging remarks.

Pleading to the trustees was the singing of jubilee songs by 400 students. When Prof. Lawson started the choir part of "All God's Children Got Shoes" and the chorus joined with their various parts. And the morning that about the best jubilee singing they had heard for some time. Another selection that was appreciated was "Walk Together, Children, Great Camp Meeting in the Promised Land."

Following the speech-making and music, the trustees were ushered into the dining room in the manual training building, where a table, fairly groined under the load of good things, the center stood a large pumpkin, cut into a basket shape and piled full of fruit, roses, carnations and apples. There was a card-disk at each plate. Fruits and roses made it a charming festive board.

The dinner was prepared solely by the girls in the cooking class. Nothing that was served was cooked by the men. Everything was cooked and served by the girls. There was a card-disk at each plate. Fruits and roses made it a charming festive board.

Very pretty place cards had been drawn in water colors by Lucius Annis, a student of the Central High School. The artistic work was complimented by the Trustees.

The menu followed: Oyster Cocktail, Sautéed Chicken, Roast Turkey, Chestnut Croquettes, Cranberry Jelly, Peas, Mashed Potatoes, Corn Relish, Onion Soup, Fruit Punch, English Plum Pudding, Handmade Sauce, Ice Cream, Cake, Fruits, Nuts, Raisins.

Those who prepared the dinner: Josephine Lawrence, Florence Taylor, Beatie Jones, Jeanette McAfee, Lillian Rice, Pearl Vaughan, Mary Edna May, Maryetta Johnson, Beatie Hickman, Katie Williams, Hattie Taylor, Louisa Tucker, and Virgie King of the Junior class.

Thanksgiving Prices Are Roosting High.

MUCH COIN NEEDED FOR ANNUAL FEAST.

BANKS KEPT BUSY CASHING CHECKS FOR SUPPLIES.

NO RELIEF IS IN SIGHT.

There has been a great writing of checks this week. Inquiries among the banks and financial institutions yesterday revealed the fact that more accounts have been closed this fall than were withdrawn during any holiday season in the past. The great demand for money is attributed by one banker to the skyward jump in prices for Thanksgiving and Christmas supplies. An investigation of this statement last night shows that prices for larger supplies are higher than they have been in many years. Turkeys are now selling at the rate of 25 cents a pound. Chickens, rabbits, ducks and meats have been soaring steadily for two weeks until they are almost beyond the reach of the man in moderate circumstances. A prominent local butcher predicted last night that everything will continue to go up until the winter season sets in.

Remarkable Prices.
A canvass of the various retail establishments in the local market places yesterday shows the following schedule of prices to be the most remarkable ever compiled for this season of the year:
Turkeys—New York dressed, 22½¢ a pound; Louisville dressed, 25¢ a pound; chickens—Hens, dressed, 15¢ a pound; springers, large size, 20¢ a pound; small size springers, 27¢ to 30¢ a pound.
Rabbits—First-class, 20¢ apiece, or $2 a dozen.
Opossums—20¢ to 75¢ each, weighing from 2 to 4½ pounds.
Coons—35¢ to $1 each, weighing from 5 to 10 pounds.
Mallard Ducks—$1.50 a pair, weighing from 2½ to 3 pounds.
Teal Ducks—40¢ each, weighing 14 pounds.
Butterball Ducks—50¢ each, weighing from 2 to 2½ pounds.
Beef Roasts—12¢ to 15¢ a pound.
And so the list of numbers run. Hardly a day has passed during the past two weeks that there has not been an increase announced on some certain category of life.

Comparison With Last Year.
Compared with last year's prices the figures given above tower high over the schedule of 1908. New York dressed turkeys sold last year in this city for 15 cents apiece. Yesterday the same turkeys sold at 22½ cents a pound. Louisville dressed turkeys last year were on the market at 20 cents a pound, yesterday the retailers demanded 25 cents. In nearly every instance the prices are higher this year than they have been in many decades.
Beef roasts are selling this year 12 to 15 cents a pound, where last year they sold at 10 to 12½ cents a pound. Lamb is about the same this year as last, but pork is now held at 16 cents a pound, where it only brought 10 and 12½ cents last year. Veal has created a sensation this year for it cannot be had for less than 12½ to 20 cents a pound at any butcher's stall, while last year this grade of meat could be bought in any of the local markets for 10 and 11 cents a pound.

Nuts and Fruits Up.
While the meat dealers and produce men were busy jacking up increases in their prices, the fruit dealers have been anything but asleep. They now announce that all kinds of nuts and fruits will go up between now and Christmas. Last year the prices for these articles were fairly reasonable, but it is hardly believed to view of the big advance in almost everything else, that these delicacies will lay low. It was said last night by a prominent local caterer that nuts, fruits and sweetmeats are beginning to rise already, and he ventured the opinion that where the housewife could bake a fruitcake last year for a little less than $1 she will now have to pay as high as $1.40 for her materials.

Fruit Prices.
The following is the scale of prices gleaned from fruit dealers:
Florida oranges, 10 to 50 cents a dozen.
California grapes, 15 cents a pound.
Malaga grapes, 20 cents a pound.
Apples, 40 to 50 cents a peck.
Chestnuts, 12½ cents a pound.
Almonds, 20 cents a pound.
Walnuts, 20 cents a pound.
Hickory nuts, 20 cents a pound.

TO SELL ARGENTINA HER COAL SUPPLY.
Norfolk, Va., Nov. 23.—The coal market of the Argentine Republic heretofore supplied almost exclusively from Great Britain, is to be invaded by American coal mined in West Virginia and exported from Norfolk. The first cargo is being loaded here today in the British transport steamer London Bridge, bound for Puerto Plata, Virginia, and it is claimed, can be put in Argentina 25 cents cheaper than British coal.

MONEY RUNS OUT

To Cease Work On New Capitol Grounds.

THE BUILDING ABOUT READY FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

COURT OF APPEALS HANDS DOWN MANY OPINIONS.

WRECK ON F. AND C. ROAD.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Work on the improvement of the grounds around the new Capitol will cease on Saturday night not to be resumed again until spring, and then only if the Legislature appropriates an additional sum of money to complete the work which has been started. The Auditor said he would advance the money necessary to continue the work if a majority of the members of the Legislature signified, in writing, their willingness to vote for an additional appropriation for the improvement of the grounds. Only fifteen replies have been received from members of the Legislature, and of these only three have committed themselves on the subject. This convinced Frank P. James, State Auditor, that he could not rely on use in trying to get the appropriation passed before the Legislature meets, and orders were given to have the work stopped Saturday. The money for the improvement of the grounds has been exhausted.

Elevators To Start Monday.

The Capitol Commission at a meeting Tuesday afternoon engaged an electrical expert to pass on the power plant, and if it is all right, the plant will be accepted. The elevators in the building will be started Monday, and if they are satisfactory they will be accepted. No elevators have run in the building thus far. Lights were ordered to be started Monday, and the Lexington and Intermountain railroad, which operates the building, will continue to use the work stopped Saturday. The money for the improvement of the grounds has been exhausted.

tend its car line one block closer to the Capitol as soon as possible. The line now runs two blocks from the Capitol, and the suggestion is made that it be operated on the new street to be opened just at the beginning of the Capitol grounds proper. The railroad company has expressed a willingness to make this extension. It will mean that the Legislature will have a much less distance to walk.

Court of Appeals.
A deed signed by an inmate of an insane asylum cannot be forced on the purchaser of a piece of property, according to a decision by the Court of Appeals today. The case was that of W. A. Brandenburg against James M. Sandridge's committee on appeal from the Hardin Circuit Court. The judgment of the lower court is reversed. The court here said that a deed signed by an inmate of the asylum for the insane, an assistant physician at the asylum certifying that Sandridge was sane. The court here says that the lower court erred in forcing Brandenburg to accept such a deed from Sandridge.

The Nelson Circuit Court was reversed in the case of the Clear Spring Distillery Company against the Board of Trustees of the Bardonia Graded School District. The trustees sought to collect school tax upon several warehouses and 15,000 barrels of whiskey included in the boundary of the district. The court here says that the General Assembly intended that the two and one-half mile boundary of a school district should be measured from the outer boundary of the site of the school building, provided the site does not occupy more than an acre.

The court reversed for errors in instructions the case of the L. C. railroad against G. W. Gunterman, on appeal from Muhlenberg county. Gunterman was wounded in the neck by a pistol ball in a shooting affray between a brakeman and a passenger named Laswell, who had just alighted from the train. Gunterman recovered judgment for $1,000.

In the case of Henry Sanders against William Idol on appeal from Oldham county, the court adjudges Idol entitled to an acre of land purchased from Idol with other property at a price of $2,000, but omitted the three acres respectively, on the charges against him. The reversal was for errors of instructions.

Passengers on the F. and C. railroad, which is now under the management of the L. and N. railroad, who had to make connections north or south at Georgetown this morning, had the unusual experience of riding in the cab of an engine so that they could catch the Q. and C. trains. The passenger train which left Frankfort this morning carried with it no less than four Stamping Grounds, a few miles east of Frankfort. Nobody was injured, but the spreading rails which caused the wreck were a nuisance to no small extent. Several men were on the train on their way to Georgetown, and they were taken to Georgetown, where they connected with the Q. and C. train for that city, in the cab of the engine. They had a safe and fairly comfortable ride, although it was a rather novel experience for them.

Gov. Willson has appointed Dr. H. S. Keller as the delegate from Kentucky to a conference to fix a standard for medical colleges in charges, February 28. Every State in the Union will be represented.

After Job On Board.
Interest in the appointment of a new member of the State Board of Control the 1st of January was increased today by the presence of the Hon. W. O. Mathewson, of Ashland, who is being urged from Eastern Kentucky as a strong man for the position. Mr. Mathewson is a staunch Democrat and proof of his popularity and strength as a citizen is shown by the fact that he was elected mayor of Ashland for one term, the city ordinarily being Republican as well as the county.

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. G. Crabbe went with Mr. Mathewson to see Gov. Willson. They were accompanied by Capt. Coles, another prominent citizen of Ashland. Sheriff W. L. Criger, of Boyd county, was here today, bringing down three prisoners to the penitentiary.

Cows Have Tuberculosis.
Much to the astonishment of the members of the Board of Control of the Louisville Institutions and Stanley Milward in particular, it has been shown by examinations made by Dr. F. T. Eisenmann, State veterinarian, that twenty-two out of seventy-one cows at the Central Kentucky Asylum for the Insane have tuberculosis. The cows are very fine and only one cow has been bought by the Board of Control. The board does not admit that the cows have tuberculosis and have employed another veterinarian to make an examination of the suspected animals. Dr. Eisenmann made his tests with an expert from the Government service and is ready to back up his opinion.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION.
Citizen of Monroe County Meets Death While Blasting Rock.
Glaxco, Ky., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—William Ray, 53 years old, a prominent citizen of Gamaliel, Monroe county, was instantly killed while blasting rock for a bridge over Line Creek. The explosion did not take place as it was intended and Mr. Ray was killed by the cause and was bending over the rock when the explosion let go. His body was blown fifteen feet in the air and landed a distance of thirty feet from where he was standing.

He is survived by a wife and eight children.

Olivia Meikle revealed in the going, favored by the start, went to the front at once and was never headed, winning as her rider pleased. Cambridge, practically left at the post, was a wide loser, and Ashtara Rose, Jack Blinn, and Low Lander followed the leaders closely, tired in the closing strides. Low Lander was prominent in the stretch run. Dave Nicholson showed a flash of speed for three-quarters.

290—SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purses $100. For 2-year-olds and up. Start good. Won driving; second and third same. Winner, W. Walker's c. f., by Ormus-Montale. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $25. Fractional time: 1:24.5; 1:31.4; 1:40.

Chepotuc ran as if best in the going, caught Ned Carmichael in the quarter, and racing him into dead draw steadily away, but had to shake up at the finish to stall off the run of Ollie. The latter began slowly and came fast in the run to the stretch, but was not quick enough to catch Chepotuc. Sallie Preston had no excuses and tired badly in the run through the stretch.

Cogen was driving to the limit to stall off the run of Ollie. The latter had scant chance after the start. Charles F. Price, Jr., was not quick enough to catch Belle Clem.
